Next SGC Training Is October 12

Safeguarding God's Children is a program of the Episcopal Diocese that trains individuals to be aware of child abuse and potential child-predator situations. Since the inception of the program, St. Francis has asked our parents who volunteer their time in their children's classroom to become trained. Many of you participate in some programs that now require you to be in the classroom more than six times, and we sincerely thank you for your time. In following the Diocese's program, St. Francis is now asking you to become certified according to their requirements. You may even be certified already because you serve in the church's Sunday school or scouting programs.

Our next class, taught by Don Hicks, is Friday, October 12, at noon. But before attending, please e-mail Rose Ann Gregory to help you determine if you need to be trained or certified.

Primary School

From the Assistant Division Head

The Primary School faculty has implemented a new way of operating carpool pickup. We are using technology to help us work more efficiently and collaboratively. On your end, you might not have noticed many changes except that your carpool tag now displays a number instead of your family's last name. The way we used to manage carpool pickup was not meeting the needs of our teachers, students, or parents. Instead of continuing to use the system that was already in place, we decided to challenge what was possible and improve the way we gather and load children into their cars.

We assembled a Primary School carpool committee comprising 10 teachers and assistant teachers. Together, we identified what was not working, and began brainstorming how we would like afternoon carpool to run. Our carpool committee also thought long and hard about how we could use technology to help improve the communication regarding which parents were outside waiting for their child or children.

Our meetings over a 10-month time span proved to be well worth our time, effort, and discussions. Last August, we began using an app called GroupMe to list carpool numbers as cars reach the front of the Andrews House.

Teachers and assistant teachers inside the Primary School locate the children whose numbers have been listed. Children are then lined up, escorted to the door, and loaded into their vehicles. Our goal is to have your children standing and waiting as you pull up to the porte cochere.

Thank you for your patience at the beginning of the year as we—parents, students, and teachers—continue to get more comfortable with the new departure process. It always improves as the year goes on.

Here are a few carpool reminders:

- Please have your yellow or blue carpool number displayed. If you need replacements or an extra, please e-mail your child's teacher.
- Please help your children remember their carpool number. The good news is that your family will keep the same number for as long as your children are in the Primary School.
- Please begin teaching your children to buckle themselves into their seats. We encourage them to start with the top clips and then to fasten the bottom buckles.
- Please e-mail or call your child's teacher in the morning if you need to change your regular carpool.
- Please keep your speed below 10 miles per hour.
- Please follow the signs and signals of those directing traffic.
- Please refrain from using your cell phone during this time.

As always, we appreciate your patience and cooperation as we find new ways to improve our Primary School program. I look forward to seeing you in carpool!

Warmly,

Clifton Walker, MEd
Assistant Head of Primary School

Lower School

From the Division Head

I hope this finds you enjoying a long weekend with family and friends!

I recently came across an article that jumped right off the page at me. The topic of the article was about another parenting label: “Lawnmower Parents.” I know we are familiar with the terms “Helicopter Parents,” “Tiger Parents,” and “Free-Range Parents,” but this is a new one. It grabbed my interest right away, as helping you raise resilient, emotionally healthy children is a top priority of every faculty member in Lower School.

So, what is this new breed of parents? Well, I don’t think it’s actually that new, but the label is intriguing. These parents mow down (eliminate) all of their child’s potential challenges, discomforts, or struggles. We, as parents, naturally want to help our children, and we all have been guilty of doing this from time to time.

The problem arises when we continue to prevent our children from ever experiencing disappointment or struggles. Working through disappointment or facing challenges is a very large part of learning to be flexible, learning from mistakes, learning to make decisions, and realizing mistakes are not the end of the world. Logically, as adults, we can all admit that handling these emotions is simply a part of life; but then we are quick to jump in and try to appease our upset children, rather than talk through the problem and help them to problem-solve to find the best solution. This might result in your children becoming angry at you for not “rescuing” them, but it is our job as parents to be able to handle that and realize that we are doing what is best for them. I know it’s not fun to have an upset child, especially when he or she decides to be upset or angry with us. But children MUST experience these emotions to become resilient and self-sufficient.

That said, what does this look like in school? If your child forgets materials for homework, don’t e-mail or text your friend to get a copy of the homework. Help your child realize that it is okay to make mistakes and that he or she can do the work the next night. Tell the teachers what happened and face the logical consequences (which is probably nothing except doing the work the next night). Again, this might upset your child—but what a great life lesson to learn in Lower School, where such actions are not detrimental to resumes or transcripts! At school, we talk about making mistakes, taking risks, and problem-solving all day, so this will not be a new concept for the students.

Another example is bringing items to your children during the day that they really don't need to get through the day: water bottles, lunch, homework, binders, part of the uniform. The world will not end without these items, and they will not be "punished" if they forget things from time to time. Hopefully, the experience makes them feel a bit uncomfortable—which is the logical, natural consequence for forgetfulness. Of course, if this is a pattern, you will hear from the teachers so we can help you and your child problem-solve and get everyone on the right track.

Or, how about going to a sports practice? Who packs the baseball bag or makes sure they have everything? What happens if they forget their equipment?

We ask for your cooperation in helping us teach responsibility, emotional well-being, and resilience. Years and years of research tell us that these qualities are what make truly successful, happy adults. They are used to not being rescued at school and very accustomed to reflecting on mistakes for the purpose of learning and growing. They can do this outside of school, as well!!

Have a wonderful long weekend and week!

Middle School

From the Division Head

Happy Sunday, Middle School families. I hope this finds you well today.

This past week, our students completed ERB testing. I applaud their patience, diligence, and hard work during standardized testing, especially with regular school-day scheduling on top of that. We will get the scores back as soon as possible, and we will use them as one of many tools to measure our academic progress as a Middle School.

It's Homecoming Week, which means we're celebrating the old and new traditions of our growing school; we've got community service drives, pep rallies, and games galore. This week, we begin school on Tuesday—don't come to school on Monday, please, as it is Columbus Day—and it is incredibly busy.

On Tuesday, progress reports go online to our parents. Please keep in mind that these are working documents, as grades are entered daily, but they should give you good insight as to how our students are progressing through trimester one. Each parent will get an academic report with conduct grades, as well as an effort report for each class. The effort reports are designed to better inform the whole picture of our students' progress—engagement, independent learning, collaborative learning, and self-advocacy. Hopefully, these reports change the driving question away from “What letter is my student earning in class?” to “What effort, behavioral, and academic traits are my student showing in class?”

On Wednesday, Dr. Crystal Collier—formerly of the Choices program—will join us for a parent presentation on the topic of self-control. She is now independently practicing, and her program is called Pathways. Similar to the work she did with us previously, her presentations will continue to help guide our community through high-risk behavioral education to better inform our teaching, parenting, and overall school programming. On Thursday, Dr. Collier will meet with our students in grade-level presentations, so please look forward to meaningful conversations about important life skills in the coming days.

This past week, the New York Times published two articles about adolescent health that caught my eye. This article discusses helping teenagers embrace and cope with stress in order to buoy their learning outcomes. This article has an embedded link to a Canadian study conducted on adolescent sleep patterns and screen time, and how those items affect overall health. Dr. Collier will discuss many of these issues in her forthcoming talks, but I'll keep sending mind, brain, and education resources as often as possible to supplement her research-informed guidance.

The week culminates with the MS Fall Dance for sixth, seventh, and eighth graders. Thanks so much to our Student Council members and their parents for helping with organization and setup of the “90's Neon” event. Don't worry, fifth graders—we have some fun events planned for you this year, too!

I wish you all a wonderful week. It's a beautiful day, and we are Wolves!

Sincerely,

Connor Cook, EdD
Head of Middle School

Parent Workshop This Wednesday: No. 1 Predictor of Adult Success

Join us to learn about the predictors of adult success and what parents can do to cultivate these skills and abilities in their children this Wednesday, October 10, from 1:30-2:30 p.m. in the Hogan Board Room. Led by Dr. Crystal Collier of Pathways, this will be the first in a series of 2018-19 parent workshops focused on social and emotional health.

On Thursday, October 11, Dr. Collier will present to our Middle School students on the same topic in grade-level assemblies, which should provide the basis for some meaningful conversations at home.

Lord of the Streets Sock Drive This Friday

The CARES Council is working in conjunction with the Lord of the Streets to gather socks for those who are in need. The Council is asking that each person who attends the MS dance bring at least one pair of new socks to the dance this Friday. Last year's drive helped so many—we are looking once again to be People for Others to those in the most need.

PSIA Interest Forms Due October 15

Your student has the opportunity to try out for one or two Private Schools Interscholastic Association (PSIA) academic events. Students in grades 5-8 will compete individually according to their grade level.

We encourage you to visit with your child about his or her interests and the possibility of entering these events. It is a big commitment to study throughout the semester and involves parents as the academic "coaches," responsible for organizing practice sessions and coaching the students. Only two or three students at each grade level will be entered at the district level in each event.

From the District Meet held at Saint Elizabeth Ann Seton Catholic School on Saturday, March 2, 2019, two students will advance at each grade level in each contest (with a few exceptions) to the PSIA State Meet, which will be held at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth on Saturday, April 27, 2019.

For more information about each academic event, visit the PSIA website.

The deadline to submit interest forms is Monday, October 15, by 4:00 p.m. Click here to view and print the interest form. Your child's completed form can be e-mailed to Molly Edington or given to his or her English teacher.

Upper School

From the Division Head

I hope this message finds you doing well and enjoying a restful holiday weekend. We had quite a spectacular week last week, kicking off the month of October with a three-day retreat at Camp Allen. Prior to returning to campus on Wednesday, we enjoyed a group lunch at Escalante's. Here are some photos of our happy campers:

During my lunch conversation with faculty at one end of the table, we agreed that retreat highlights included the student-faculty volleyball game, spontaneous group sing-alongs to "Lean On Me" and "Let It Go," and dancing together next to the campfire. I hope that your child's retreat experience was a positive one. Please join me in thanking Cara Matzen, Shai Zacaraev, Angela Flowers, and Cyd McMillian for their roles in planning this team-bonding, experiential-learning adventure.

Individual student pictures and our class photo will be taken on Tuesday, October 9. This is a dress uniform day for all students.

Homecoming Week is ahead of us, and I invite you to join me in cheering on our Wolves from both the Middle and Upper School divisions at their respective athletics contests. Our week of Homecoming activities culminates on Friday with our first-ever Primary-through-Upper School pep rally, and the Upper School volleyball game.

Have a wonderful week!

Sincerely,

Cara Henderson
Head of Upper School

Children, Wear Your Halloween Costumes on October 28!

We can't wait to see all of your cute, fun, or scary costumes!

Veterans' Day Recognition

On Sunday, November 11, we will honor and celebrate our veterans, giving thanks for all who have served honorably in the U.S. military. If you have an additional name to add to the Veterans' Day publication we produce annually, please e-mail Kathryn Adkins with the name and rank of the person to be listed by Monday, November 5.

'The Meaning of Marriage' Continues Today

Modern culture would have you believe that everyone has a soul mate; that romance is the most important part of a successful marriage; that marriage does not mean "until death do us part," but merely "for as long as my needs are being met"; and that when serious differences arise, divorce is the best solution.

According to the Bible, though, these modern-day assumptions miss what marriage is all about.

In this six-session, video-based Bible study, Timothy and Kathy Keller—who have been married for 40 years—draw a profound portrait of marriage from the pages of Scripture that neither idealizes nor rejects the institution, but points us back to the relationship between God and man. The result is a vision for marriage that is refreshingly frank and unsentimental, yet hopeful and beautiful.

This study is for everyone, whether you are single, considering marriage, a newlywed, or part of a couple that's been married a long time!

Sessions will be held at 10:00 a.m. in the Hogan Board Room on two Sundays per month from September through November. Remaining topics include:

- “Roles: Loving Through Mutual Submission” (October 7)
- “Singleness: Strengthening the Spiritual Family” (October 28)
- “Sex: The Act of Covenant Renewal” (November 11)
- “Hope: Seeing the Great Horizon” (November 18)

Discovering Christian Meditation

New opportunities for silent prayer at St. Francis Episcopal Church are now available:

- Tuesdays, 5:00-5:30 p.m.
- Thursdays, 7:30-8:00 a.m.

These sessions are held in the St. Clare Chapel and led by Father David Price. We find the roots of Christian meditation in the practice of Jesus recorded in the Gospels and in the content of the Epistles. We see it developed further in the writings of the desert tradition of the early church. Come learn a bit about it, gain a few hints about the practice and, mostly, pray.

Holy Baptism Is November 4

On Sunday, November 4, we observe All Saints' Day, celebrating the saints and membership of the church. It is especially appropriate to offer the sacrament of baptism on this principal feast day. To schedule a baptism, please contact Amy Homer via e-mail or at 713.782.1270.

Forgiveness Workshop Scheduled for November 10

Father Bates will lead a forgiveness workshop on Saturday, November 10, from 9:00 a.m. to noon in the Hogan Board Room. This will be a time to consider whom you need to forgive, and to work through a process of learning to release others and yourself.

“Everyone says forgiveness is a lovely idea, until they have something to forgive.” —C.S. Lewis

Please RSVP to Amy Homer via e-mail or at 713.782.1270 if you plan to attend.

Join Us for St. Francis 101

Join Father Bates on Sunday, November 11, at 10:00 a.m. in the Bride's Room for St. Francis 101. This is a great opportunity for new or prospective members to get to know St. Francis Episcopal Church and Father Bates as he gives an overview of our mission, ministry, and programs.

You can RSVP to Kathryn Adkins, or just stop in, and we'll happily welcome you! The Bride's Room is located in the Narthex of the Church.

The Grief Group Starts Today

The Grief Group will meet for four consecutive Sundays in October from 3:00-5:00 p.m. in the Chapel. It is time set aside for those who are grieving to reflect on their lives, their losses, and their strengths going forward. We will use the 23rd Psalm as our guide to remember that God is with us even during painful times.

The Grief Group is a safe place to talk, cry, and laugh about the gifts we have—even when we're facing death, crisis, and trauma in our lives—while beginning to move into our new, renewed lives. Dr. Robbie Sharp, a psychologist who attends St. Francis, will lead the group. Please e-mail Jerry Ballard to sign up for The Grief Group.
